Everything that this session of Congress has done could have been finished early in July, if that had been the idea. Obviously, it wasn't the idea.

As Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon was saying the other day, quoting his fellow Democrat, Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, it might be a good thing for Congress to stay in session 365 days a year. There is more wisdom in that than Sen. Morse could be expected to

If Congress were supposed to stay in session continuously, there would be an irresistible desire to go home as soon as possible each year. But Congress is supposed to go home each year by July; therefore, it stays in session as long as possible. .

In fact, the only way to get it to go home, unless there's a congressional election coming up, is to set an arbitrary deadline. This year, the arbitrary deadline, which first was set at Labor Day, subsequently was moved back to the arrival of Premier Khrushchev.

It could just as easily have been something else, like the beginning of school, the annual pollination of goldenrod, or the Miss America shindig at Atlantic City. Whatever it turns out to be, adjournment date is arbitrary-a kind of legislative hurdle that everybody must clear on the say-so of the ringmaster.

The fact is, of course, that members of Congress need vacations like the rest of us. The fact is, they haven't had any this year, and whatever they have in mind that requires clement weather had better be done soon or

The further fact is, air-conditioning, the lack of which used to drive even filibusterers out of steaming Washington, now is almost universal in Washington but still spotty in the home districts and state of the legislators. They lack the incentive to go home that formerly was supplied by their discom-

And the still further fact is that there finally comes a time when Congress has no possible excuse to stay in session any longer. There is nothing left to do. All the advantage has been wrung out of the circumstances of the session. All the speeches have been made and the vendettas carried out with relentless vigor. The Congressional Record, that compendium of everything not left unsaid, has been filled to overflowing

Actually, the time came to go home long tember Song" puts it, this is no time for

Untamed Williway

Nothing makes the subtropics seem more uninviting than an overdose of high temperatures and high humidity in Ohio. But it is hardly called for in a climate that so rarely turns tropical to exult over the first sharp reminder that frost is due before the end of the month.

Up north in the 49th state of Alaska, what happened here when the heat wave was routed by a cold front would have been called a "williwaw," the chilling wind that heralds the settling in of another long winter. It's not that serious here; there will be many more nice days before the last holdout is driven into an overcoat.

But it's always sad when gardens wither and flowers quit blooming, when leaves fall and heating bills rise. The bite of the untamed williwaw varies in severity, but no one ever said it was painless.

In the cold gray months ahead it will be nice to remember that September blasterthe clear, blue sky-the burning sun-the shimmering pavements—even the electric fans and the whirring air-conditioners. Who remembers furnaces, snow drifts, skidding cars, snow shovels, wet feet and frostbitten fingers with anything but loathing? And who thinks of the williwaw with anything but sorrow, whether it blows literally in Alaska or figuratively in Ohio?

BROADWAY NOW HAS A STATUTE to the showman who was above all others. "Mister Broadway": George M. Cohan. The city has been so long getting around to it that the dedication constituted a "late curtain."

Cohan, a boy wonder of show biz, came out of Providence, R.I., in his early teens with his father, mother and sister in famed vaudeville act "The Four Cohans." He was a dreamer of big dreams and hit New York early. His reception was none too warra, due to the fact he was pretty bumptious and annoying as a kid. But in no time he was writing hit songs and hit musicals, starring in many of the latter.

Partnership with Sam Harris, who had come out of fight promotions into the theater, proved a tremendously successful combina- American like a housewife pounces tion. In later years Cohan mellowed and was on a roach. But that is not the way successful in more serious phases of show it is. Every American who visits biz. Broadway was in his blood all his life.

JOHN HAY WHITNEY believes in small and medium-sized town background for editors. He has now picked for a top berth in his newspaper operations, Dwight Sargent, who got his training in places like Biddeford, Portland and New Bedford.

In towns of this type a man gets more of an all-around newspaper training in a month than he gets in the big city in a year.

How well we know it. We were managing editor of a New England paper at 23 and in the course of training had to cover all types of stories, run the city desk, take photographs, help with make-up and, on big occasions, give a hand in the circulation department. There are 3,000 individual steel products needed to keep the na tion rolling. Auto will be out of some of these items shortly. So will the giant appliance industry. Millions of dollars worth of construction projects already have stopped for lack of special steels.

Even after the strike it will take three weeks to heat up the furnaces fully and another 45 days for orders to be filled.

There is the belief in top circles that the final settlement will pivot upon 10 cents an hour more, and that both sides have virtually agreed to such an expenditure. So the President believes that

"Ours is an Alcoa branch sales office servicing the area's industrial and manufacturing firms. Increased activity necessitated better communications. CALL director telephones were the answer. We added more lines without using a switchboard. Calls can still be answered anywhere and there is room for growth. These new phones need little desk space and are easier to use. They are neater and the colors are good looking. Now we can handle more calls faster and more efficiently without adding people to our force."

How to Get the Best Education For Your Child

It's a Good Idea to Know the Teachers

condensed from the book, "How To Get the Best Education for Your Child," written by the former education editor of the New York Times and his wife, an educator herself.

By D. BENJAMIN FINE And LILLIAN FINE

Parents who limit themselves to interest in homework are like people who read of politics in newspapers and don't vote.

If you make an active effort to enable the school staff to know and take an interest in your child, you are doing your duty and performing a service for the school as

IN ONE CASE a Kindergarten teacher had been in a school system for 20 years. Much evidence had accumulated showing that she was actually a hazard for little children. Seh would not permit 5year-olds to play or dance or sing. Some were locked in dark closets for minor infractions. Face slappings were not uncommon

A group of parents went to the school board to complain. "Why don't you see the superintendent?"

They saw the superintendent. "Sorry, there's nothing I can do," he said. "She has tenure. She has

EMMB. TRUCKS THAT DO THE NEXT BEST THING TO PAVING EVERY ROAD IN AMERICA!

Imagine a truck ride so smooth and cushioned that fragile loads can travel the worst "washboard" roads with ease. Imagine a truck ride that virtually eliminates shimmy and wheel fight, cuts side sway on curves, makes steering far steadier and easier, keeps drivers far fresher. Imagine a truck ride that permits higher safe cruising speeds, more trips per day with all kinds of cargo over every type of road surface. Imagine a ride that keeps up to 78% of all objectionable road shock and vibration from ever reaching the driver and cargo, a design that sharply reduces twisting and fatigue forces on chassis, cabs and bodies, that keeps trucks young for extra thousands of miles. / Soon you won't have to just imagine such a ride. You can try it for yourself in the trucks that do the next best thing to paving every road in America-new Chevrolet trucks for 1960. You'll see what happens when Chevy's truck engineers design a whole new line of trucks around a whole new kind of torsion-spring suspension. These trucks are new from the ride on up -with wonderfully roomier cabs, brawnier frames, style that's fresh as sixty and CHEVROLET more! Don't decide on any new truck till you see the newest of all.

See them soon at your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's.

Ohio Lobbyist Indicted by Grand Jury

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)-Lobbyist Robert E. Scott of Cambridge Monday was indicted by the Franklin County Grand Jury. The jury reported Scott paid $16,000 in hotel bills on behalf of Ohio lawmakers over a period of three legislative sessions, but failed to

The grand jury, in its last official act, recommended a special grand jury continue the investigation of lobbyist - legislator activities. Today is the last day of life for the present grand jury.

The report to Common Pleas Judge Kenneth L. Sater asserted: "These payments made directly or indirectly to or on behalf of members of the General Assembly were not reported in the account of expenditures filed by Mr. Robert E. Scott in 1957 or in 1959 as required by law."

Scott's expenditures reviewed by the grand jury included payments to the hotel accounts of LEETONIA Sen. Arthur Blake (D-Belmont) Sen. Anthony O. Calabrese (D-Sen. Raymond E. Hildebrand (R-

Gov. DiSalle May Not Request Special Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is sounding these days like a man who won't call a special election to fill the vacant congressional seat in the Sixth Ohio District unless he is DiSalle told newsmen Monday he has asked Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy for a formal ruling on whether the governor must call the special election and, if so, whether there is any time element involved.

The election would be to fill the vacancy caused by the death last spring of Rep. James G. Polk, a Democrat. The district covers counties in south-central Ohio.

DiSalle earlier had asked Secretary of State Ted W. Brown for an estimate on the cost of a special primary election 15 days ahead of the Nov. 3 election this year. The estimate was $63,000.
